surface finish - natural tiles

Natural finish tiles are versatile, modern looking and suitable for floor and wall application. Some commonly available natural finish tiles/stones are marble, travertine, granite, limestone and sandstone. Natural finish tiles also have the option for a higher slip resistance technology and can be used in different areas around the home. These tiles tend to match their surroundings very well and are ideal for use on the floors of bathrooms, bedrooms, living rooms and outdoor areas such as balconies. Natural finish tiles don't scratch as easily as gloss tiles.

material - porcelain

Porcelain tiles go in sync with well-appointed furnishings of homes and offices because they offer unmatched variety of colours, shapes and sizes. A creative expression of your personality on your surfaces, these fully vitrified porcelain tiles are highly durable with a longer life span. These tiles are also fireproof, rendering them the safest choice for homes and offices. That's not all. They are ideal for outdoor use such as places with high foot traffic and are the perfect solution for cold climates because of their frost-proof exterior. Their strength and non-porous nature make them highly resistant to staining. You can lay them by using an adhesive, grout and silicone sealant.

Pressed tiles are manufactured using a standard pressing and firing process in a mould. This means the size of these tiles varies slightly and allowance needs to be made while laying them. Larger grout joints are required when laying pressed tiles and it is because of this that their installation is faster and cheaper. These tiles hide imperfections in the substrate whereas rectified tiles highlight them. The ease of manufacturing makes pressed edge tiles generally a cheaper buy.
